

Distance Learning at Gila Cliff Dwellings

Project Title	Distance Learning at Gila Cliff Dwellings
Project Summary	Work with Gila Cliff Dwellings National Monument staff to bring the Mogollon culture of the ancient Southwest and the wonder of the Gila Wilderness to classrooms across the US. Help us share our national heritage and public lands with others.
Country	United States

Project Description

Gila Cliff Dwellings National Monument is a remote park that many students cannot visit. But through distance learning opportunities students from across the US can visit the dwellings from their own classroom. This national park site is looking for an intern to work from home with park staff, 10 hours per week, to assist in designing and creating distance learning lesson plans for a variety of grade levels K through 12 on subjects such as cultural history, geology, and biology.

Required Skills or Interests

Skill(s)

Editing and proofreading

Educational design

Research

Storytelling/blogging/vlogging

Writing

Additional Information

For more information about Gila Cliff Dwellings visit us at nps.gov/gicl or on Facebook at www.facebook.com/Gila-Cliff-Dwellings-National-Monument-153184661361723/

For more information on the Gila Wilderness <http://www.fs.usda.gov/gila/> or on Facebook www.facebook.com/GilaNForest/

Language Requirements

Language	Speaking Proficiency	Reading Proficiency	Importance
Spanish	Minimum professional proficiency	Minimum professional proficiency	Nice to Have